15th Annual Global Women’s Rights Forum - 2016 Program

Monday, March 07, 2016

8:00 PM - 10:00 PM Studio Theater, Lone Mountain

Echo Brown: “Black Virgins are not for Hipsters.” A Performance and Q+A.

This one-woman show “offers an incisive and side-splitting ride through the maze of race and romance in ‘colorblind’ America, giving the audience an unfettered look at modern courtship rituals, climaxing with a mesmerizing Beyoncé dance tutorial.”

(http://www.virginhipster.com/#!about/cjg9).

Preview the performance at: www.virginhipster.com.

Tuesday, March 08, 2016

9:55-11:40 McLaren Complex

“Transnational and Decolonial Feminisms: Mobilizing Women’s Human Rights from the Margins”

Speakers: Pascha Bueno-Hansen, Assistant Professor and Director of the Sexualities and Gender Studies Minor, University of Delaware and Rosalva Aida Hernandez Castillo, Professor & Senior Researcher at the Center for Research and Advanced Studies in Social Anthropology (CIESAS) in Mexico City with Cecilia Santos, Associate Professor, Sociology and Latin American Studies @ USF as Moderator/commentator.
12:45-2:30 McLaren Complex

“Women’s Movements through Media.”

Speakers: Claudia Magallanes Blanco, Coordinator M.A. in Communication and Social Change. Universidad Iberoamericana Puebla, Elisabeth Jay Friedman, Professor, Politics @ USF, and Dorothy Kidd, Professor, Media Studies @USF.

2:40-4:25 McLaren Complex

Hijabi Monologues. A Performance and Q + A.

“The Hijabi Monologues project is about creating a theater space for the experiences of Muslim women; a space to breathe as they are; a space that does not claim to tell every story and speak for every voice” (www.hijabimonologues.com).

5:00-7:00 Cultural Centers UC

Reception and Art Show

Features the work of artists affiliated with the University of San Francisco as students, alumnae, and staff. The exhibit contributes to the Forum’s promotion of an understanding of the interconnectedness of gender, sexuality, race, and social class within the USF/Bay Area community and beyond through the art on display.
8:00 PM - 10:00 PM Studio Theatre

Echo Brown: Black Virgins are not for Hipsters.” A Performance and Q&A.

This one-woman show “offers an incisive and side-splitting ride through the maze of race and romance in ‘colorblind’ America, giving the audience an unfettered look at modern courtship rituals, climaxing with a mesmerizing Beyoncé dance tutorial.”