April 3 - 23, 2000

The University of San Francisco’s Thacher Gallery & the USF School of Law’s “A Dialogue About the Death Penalty: In Memory of Keta Taylor Colby” present

Table of Voices
By Richard Kamler
April 3 - 23, 2000

The Table of Voices seeks, through the evocative power of art, to create a context for communication between perpetrators of violent crime and victims’ families.

Please join us for the following events

Opening Reception with the Artist
Wednesday, April 5, 4:00-6:00 p.m.
Thacher Gallery at USF

Immediately following the reception

The Table of Voices Community Conversation bringing together victims’ families and ex-offenders to dialogue around issues of crime and punishment
6:00-8:00 p.m., Faculty Lounge, University Center

For information about additional activities in conjunction with the USF School of Law’s “A Dialogue About the Death Penalty: In Memory of Keta Taylor Colby” please call (415) 422-2278 or e-mail ortegaj@usfca.edu

All events co-sponsored by the USF Fine and Performing Arts Department, School of Law and University Ministry. (415) 422-2434

Thacher Gallery at USF
Gleeson Library | Geschke Center
2130 Fulton Street
San Francisco, CA 94117

Thomas M. Lucas, S.J., Ph.D.
Curator, Thacher Gallery at USF
lucast@usfca.edu

Glori Simmons
Fine and Performing Arts Department
simmons@usfca.edu
(415) 422-5979